

VPCW Student Council report Feb 2020

Academic communities

This project is was given birth to from one of my manifesto points on influencing more course social activities to tackle isolation within courses. I'd work closely with VP Education, VP Socs & Comms and Academic Staff on this. It is about building academic communities through the existing academic societies that exists at the moment, to have a strong cohort identity. Initial discussions on how this can be achieved has begun and more information would be communicated on progress when necessary.

Improving wellbeing services on other campus sites

Both Glenside and City Campus Officers have raised concerns on the wellbeing services offered on the various campus sites. I'd be working closely with the officers to identify the specific needs we could get the university to make provision on as soon as possible. The UWE 2030 Strategy hopefully will address the wider Mental Health and Wellbeing issues around the University. Student consultation was carried out across the various campus sites to get students involved in shaping the EDI and Health & Wellbeing section of the strategy.

Talent show

The talent show is a way of showcasing and celebrating various talented students around the university. A chilled casual evening for students to relax and enjoy various performances. Talent show 2020 planning has begun and I aim to make it even bigger and better this year. One important aspect of this years talent show is getting the other campus sites hugely involved and represented. Communications for students to sign up to perform should be out by next week.
