

VPSH Student council report Feb 2020

International college varsity

As a former student at the international college, I am well aware of how secluded most of the students over there. Therefore, in order to tackle this problem, I helped them organise a football and basketball game day with the University of Bristol. I used the individual budget entitled to me as the VP sports to book the lockleaze pitch for them to practice before the actual game day. I am still trying to get a basketball team together for the game day, but if it isn't possible then it will probably be only football played on the day.

UWEBIC society

Another thing I would like to make happen is a society for the international college, this way they will have a direct link with the student's union. This will also help them create a budget for such activities in the future, without needing a handout from their generous Vp Sports.

Get LGBT involved In The Inter Society Games day

As part of LGBT history month, I ordered for more rainbow laces, as some of the clubs that were promised the laces last year couldn't get them because they quickly ran out. However, as one members of the student council suggested to actually contact the LGBT society members themselves, I will be making contact with the society with the hope of encouraging them to get more active.
