

Storage-space for personal books in Frenchay Library

The Union Knows

Many of the core text books that students are required to purchase and learn from are quite heavy.

Carrying heavy objects for long periods can be difficult for students and can cause back pain.

Currently there are isn't anywhere to store books near the Library

Many students find the Library the most productive place to study from textbooks in.

The Union Believes

Without a dedicated space to store books students have to consider whether it's worth them to the library as they may be too heavy to carry around for the rest of the day.

If there was storage space for books in the library students would be able to make more use of their textbooks as they would be much more accessible when there is free time between timetabled studying.

The C Block lockers are not in a convenient location.

The Union Will

Lobby the University to provide space for students to securely store their books in or close to the Library.
